

3-6 Players

Opinion survey

1 Piece per player

You will need pencil and paper for this game.

1 Die

The first player throws the die, moves his piece to the appropriate square and reads out the sentence. He now has to guess how many players will agree with this statement and make a note of his guess. He then asks who agrees within the group. If his guess was right, he gets a match.

Then it's the next player's turn.

Matches

I think one of you/none of you believes that one should not lie.
 I suppose two/three of you think one should not lie.
 Who thinks/believes that one shouldn't lie?

Pen and paper

Level 2

60 min.

Opinion survey

All mothers love their children.

There is life after death.

Mothers with small children should not go out to work.

Life is wonderful.

All people are basically good.

Exercise is good for you.

A man can bring up children just as well as a woman.

Women wear make-up for men.

All people are selfish.

Women are more sensitive than men.

Good looking people have an easier life.

One needs to punish children sometimes.

There are intelligent beings on other planets.

Men are more intelligent than women.

In a hundred years from now the earth will be destroyed.

Money makes you happy.

One should never lie.

Children are not well accepted in Germany.

Most politicians are corrupt.

Life used to be better.