

1 At the market

Use 'some', 'any', 'much' or 'many' to complete the mini-dialogues.

- 1. How _____ are the kiwis? It depends on how _____ you buy. They're 40p each or 3 for a pound.
2. I'd like _____ fresh eggs, please. Do you have _____ left? I think so. How _____ do you need?
3. Do you have _____ more milk? No, sorry. Would you like _____ cream instead?
4. I don't have _____ money left. Could you lend me _____? Sure. How _____ do you need?

Grammar Reference Section: Some and Any, How much and How many?

2 World of work - 'Sorry, she/he can't come to the phone just now ...'

Add suitable verbs in the present continuous and then find the occupations.

What is she/he doing?

- 1. ... he's serving lunch.
2. ... he's _____ to a customer.
3. ... she's _____ on a new book.
4. ... he's _____ a report.
5. ... she's _____ a concert.
6. ... he's _____ a customer to the airport.
7. ... she's _____ a picture.

What does she/he do?

- He's a waiter.
He's a _____.
She's a(n) _____.
He's a _____.
She's a(n) _____.
He's a _____.
She's a(n) _____.

3 Countable or uncountable?

Write 'a', 'an' or 'some' in the blanks.

- _____ water _____ ocean
_____ flour _____ flower _____ newspaper _____ news
_____ bread roll _____ bread _____ money _____ Euro

Note

BE: bread roll
AE: roll

4 Words that go together (Collocations)

Match the words in the two columns to make common phrases like 'a bar of chocolate'.

Match exercise with two columns of words: sack, bottle, group, bag, scoop, bowl, cup, bar, pair, loaf, stack/pile and shoes/jeans, bread, potatoes/onions, beer/wine, groceries, people/friends, chocolate, books/papers, ice-cream, tea/coffee, soup/cereal.